SUBJECT Mulcahy Case

ROBIN CHAPMAN: The death of a former CIA agent in a cabin just 90 miles from Washington continues to puzzle police and the FBI tonight. Kevin Mulcahy's body was found against the door of his cabin at the Mountain View Court Motel in the Shenandoah Valley yesterday morning. Mulcahy was a key government witness in its case against another former CIA agent Edwin Wilson. Wilson is charged with trying to help Libyan terrorists.

When Mulcahy's body was found at the quiet motel there were no visible clues that might help police determine how he died. Medical examiners in Virginia completed their autopsy today. So far, they still don't know what killed the 39-year old man.
